PENSIONER TALK

EDITOR'S NOTE

Dear Pensioner

In about two months, the current Board of Trustees will hand over the reins to a newly elected Board which will take office on the 1st of June 2016. The election cycle is almost complete and as we await the results, we hope you exercised your vote and contributed to one of the biggest changes that will affect your pension fund for the next four years.

We would also like to take this opportunity to welcome all our newly retired pensioners. Whether you are new to the pensioner pool or not we have prepared useful information on the different insurance deduction codes reflected on your monthly payslip. This gives you basic information about the insurance provider, their contact details and how to get your policy document from each insurer should you need to. Read more on page 4.

In the spirit of changing for the better, we have introduced a new way for you to understand and keep learning about the rules and processes that govern your pension through a crossword puzzle. Complete your first crossword puzzle on page 15.

Finally, please write to us as we value your feedback and suggestions. We will also feature your letters to the Fund on the newsletters and consider your topics suggestions as well.

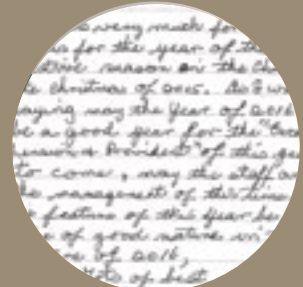

Be safe, always!

Regards

The Editor

DEAR EPPF...

The EPPF does not guarantee a pensioner bonus, but it is always a pleasure when at the end of the year, the Fund has performed well and a pensioner bonus can be declared. We received letters from Mr. J.M. Billingham, J.P.M. Barnard and H.H. Reyneke after the bonus payment at the end of 2015, the letters were very well received and we hope you will all have a fulfilling year.

GET FICA'D

The South African Banking Risk Information Centre (SABRIC), issued a warning to banking customers that they could have their bank accounts frozen due to non-compliance to the Financial Intelligence Centre Act (FICA), 38 of 2001.

FICA is designed to expose the movement of moneys gained from unlawful activities, thereby limiting money laundering and other criminal activities.

FICA requires that “accountable institutions” such as banks verify their clients’ identities, keep records of clients and transactions and report certain suspicious transactions to the Financial Intelligence Centre.

In light of the warning issued by SABRIC, we urge you to visit your nearest banking branch to update your information and ensure that you comply with FICA.

What should I take to the bank with me to verify my identity?

Most institutions require the following documents to identify and verify their clients’ identities and their contact details for FICA:

- A green barcoded South African identity document or the new smart identity card.
- A utility bill (such as your water or electricity account) that shows the stand/erf number of your property and your name and address.
- If you are living with the person who owns or rents the home you will need to provide an affidavit from the person you are living with, confirming that you live with him/her and a utility bill, rental agreement, or municipality rates bill which shows the name of the person who deposed to the affidavit.

Examples of documents for proof of residence

Most institutions will accept any one of the different types of documents listed below, showing your name and residential address. The following list is only a guide, so it is important to check with your bank or any other institution that you need to update your details with, about the specific types of documents you can submit for FICA verification.

Article information sourced from:

- Acts Online: <http://www.acts.co.za>
- The Law Society of South Africa: <http://www.lssa.org.za/>
- The South African Banking Risk Information Centre: <https://www.sabric.co.za/>
- Nedbank: <http://www.nedbank.co.za/website/content/fica/>

Unless otherwise specified, the documents must show your full residential address and not a postal address:

- A utility bill, such as for water, electricity or rates (less than three months old).
- A bank statement or financial statement from a different institution to the one you are reporting to (less than three months old).
- A copy of a signed lease agreement (by both parties), (less than a year old).
- A municipal rates and taxes invoice (less than three months old).
- A mortgage statement (less than six months old).
- A telephone account, i.e. a landline or cellular phone account (less than three months old).
- An official tax return/tax assessment (less than a year old).
- Official correspondence from the South African Revenue Services (‘SARS’) (less than three months old).
- A recent life insurance policy (less than three months old) issued by an insurance company.
- Correspondence from a body corporate or share-block association (less than three months old).
- A valid television licence document.
- A recent short-term insurance policy document or a short-term insurance renewal letter (less than a year old).
- A retail account statement/invoice (less than three months old).
- Where the person lives in any other type of residence (e.g. hostel/barracks), a letter from the administration department of such residence on an official letterhead.
- A letter from a tribal chief where the person lives.
- Confirmation from municipal offices.

Other information that is required from you

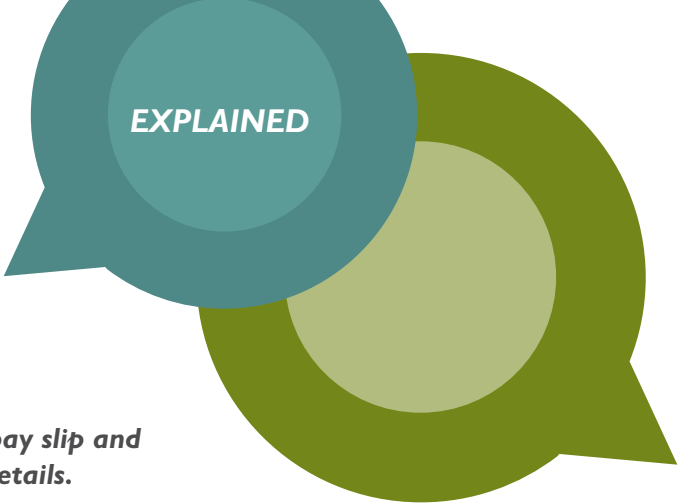

Please ensure that the bank has your latest contact details such as your telephone number and email address so that they can contact you should further FICA information and/or documentation be required.

*You cannot send someone else to submit your FICA documents on your behalf. You need to verify your identity; therefore you need to be present at the branch.

Find out from your bank if there are other types of documents that are required from you.
