Editor's Note

Welcome to the festive season edition of Pensioner Talk! In this last edition of 2020, we bring you a jam-packed edition to get you ready for the holidays and for the new year. While we do cover themes connected to the festive period, we also focus on security – from cybersecurity to taking precautions and looking after your health.

Cybersecurity awareness

The government declared the month of October National Cybersecurity awareness month, and the Fund used the month to ensure that our employees are aware of risks and threats targeting the Fund in the cyberspace. The 2020 theme “Do Your Part” empowers and reminds us that we each have a role to play in protecting our information online. For more information on how to protect your personal data, read the article under Your Finances on page 16.

Meet our new Head of Information Technology!

Leading us in our drive to ensure that cybersecurity is top of mind, is also the subject of our cover story, Head of IT, Ms Yolisa Skwintshi. We will learn more about her career journey as well the Fund’s digital transformation plans and vision. To read about Ms Skwintshi’s personal and professional views, go to People Profile on page 2.

Member mobile app launched

In early October 2020, we launched the first-ever EPPF member mobile app and the response was overwhelming. Many of you viewed our introduction video on YouTube and called into our call centre to register or give your feedback. We appreciate all the enthusiasm and always enjoy engaging with our members. The mobile app is a channel where you can access your personal and financial information seamlessly and effortlessly. It always gives us great pleasure when what we do at the Fund positively impacts you as a pensioner.

Meet our Head of IT,

Ms Yolisa Skwintshi

Ms Yolisa Skwintshi is the newest edition to the EPPF executive team, and she has certainly hit the ground running since joining the Fund in January 2020. Through this profile, we get to know more about Ms Skwintshi and find out how she plans to grow the Information Technology department and take the Fund (and its members) on a digital transformation journey. It's time to find out where she is from, about her childhood and how she has managed to succeed in what some may still consider a male-dominated industry. Let's meet our new Head of Information Technology.

1 Hello and welcome. You joined the Fund early this year, tell us about your early life and how you found the path to a successful career in Information Technology?

I grew up in the Eastern Cape in a township called Mdantsane. I finished early schooling in East London and tertiary education at the University of Fort Hare also in the Eastern Cape. I initially wanted to be a doctor and had received an acceptance letter from University of Cape Town to do Medicine.

Everything changed during a high school tour at the University of Port Elizabeth (UPE) (now known as Nelson Mandela University) when I was introduced to the world of computers. I was fascinated by the big screens (mainframe) that the UPE computer science students were working on. The jargon (code) I saw made me curious and when I got home, I spoke to my parents and aunt who convinced me to take up the Computer Science degree. I have never looked back since.

2 You have worked for some reputable organisations and built an illustrious career. What drives you and keeps you striving to grow and improve?

I'm naturally a self-driven human being. I get uncomfortable with familiarity and am hardly ever content in one place for too long. This is why I always try to challenge myself to learn new things, tap into unfamiliar environments, be better and do better. Hard work and perseverance have helped me achieve my professional success, and seeing things getting done excites me and keeps me going.

3 What advice would you give to women entering the IT field? Anything you wish you would have known?

The most important thing is to understand that before being a woman, you are a human being first. Therefore, when you enter a room full of people, you need to see humans just like you - not whether they are male than female. That will help you overcome the stereotype that males are better than females in particular fields, and vice versa.

How we use our minds to achieve what we want depends on our mindset and God-given talent, not our gender. At the end of the day we are all human beings with a mind, spirit and a soul. As long as you realise this, work hard and walk in your purpose, you have a good chance to succeed in any industry.

4 What is the greatest innovation in technology that stands out as a game-changer?

For me, it must be digital money - the use of physical cash is continuing to decline as digital currencies continue to grow. The digital currency technology has the potential to disrupt the entire financial system.

Another impactful innovation, second to digital money, is self-driving cars. This is solely because as I am getting older, I am starting to not enjoy driving. So, I am watching this development very closely, for personal reasons.

5 We are in the digital age and how companies adapt to the new requirements is critical. What is the EPPF's digital strategy and what key areas are we focusing on?

The EPPF's digital strategy is set to ensure that our members can engage and transact with us easily and faster through digitally enabled channels. The aim is that our members should feel that we are accessible, proactive and responsive to their needs 24/7.

We are currently focusing on:

- Alternative digital channels of engagement, providing members with different channels
- Robotics to boost member experience and productivity through automation and continuous improvement of our back-office processes

- Personalised member experiences through all channels of engagement
- Artificial Intelligence to improve how we serve our pensioners and members.

6 Why is the Fund choosing to focus on cybersecurity now? How does it fit in with your other priorities, and what do you hope your work can improve how the Fund operates?

Cybersecurity has always been a priority for the Fund, and this has been further highlighted now that the world is going through the COVID-19 pandemic. COVID-19 became a gift to cyber criminals as the world had to work remotely - these criminals are taking advantage of weaknesses in our home or alternative networks. It is a focus area in our IT agenda as the Fund holds the financial information of our pensioners and members which we need to ensure is protected at all times.

The IT team is continuously training employees and creating cyber security awareness programmes to impart knowledge and change the behaviour of employees to be more vigilant. It is critical that we make sure that employees understand that protecting the Fund against cybercrime is not only the responsibility of the IT team, but it is a collective responsibility of everyone in the Fund.

7 We have seen in recent times where large national financial organisations experienced data breaches. How effective is our cyber security strategy in addressing data leak risks?

EPPF has a security layer that monitors and tracks all the activities on the network, and it raises alarms as well for suspicious activities including file activity and transfers. Data breaches as well as leakage risks are managed at different levels within the EPPF IT environment. Data transfers/leaks are managed through the use of a secured communication channel that uses encryption to prevent unauthorised access to the data.

Invested in our members

The most important thing is to always be vigilant as cyber criminals are always looking for better ways to hack systems. Through our security partner, we are always improving our IT environment to ensure we are proactive in protecting and securing our data.

8 The EPPF is one of the largest pension funds in Africa and our employees' compliment of 130 serve over 80,000 active members, pensioners and beneficiaries. How do we use technology to protect sensitive information?

The Fund's or EPPF's sensitive information is stored and classified in our environment through the alignment to the Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA). Data leakage prevention policies are applied across the EPPF environment to ensure that sensitive personal information is secure, checked before it reaches the intended/unintended recipients as well as the monitoring of incoming traffic onto our networks. The policies also focus on the blockage of use of external user devices like memory sticks as well as personal online storage such as external hard drives.

9 One of the Fund's values speaks to strong leadership. What kind of a leader are you, and has this leadership style evolved over the years or stayed the same?

I don't have one leadership style, it is situational. At times, I'm democratic, sometimes autocratic and sometimes transformational. I like setting targets for my team and letting them come up with ideas on how to execute, while also making sure that the targets are met. In situations where the margins for success or failure are small, I tend to be more "hands-on" as I dislike missing deadlines.

My preference is being democratic as I do believe that diverse ideas lead to richer and more effective solutions. It is also interesting to note that as I evolve as a human being, I have seen a trend towards being much more transformational and democratic.

10 As women, we are professionals, but a lot of the time we are so much more. We play many roles in our homes, families, communities and in the broader society. How would like to be remembered – what legacy would you like to leave behind?

I would like to be remembered for the impact I make and how I have touched and improved the lives of those around me. Every year, I look for an opportunity to uplift and empower someone who is talented, educated and with a lot of potential. The aim is for this individual to become financially viable and independent and I use my network to provide the appropriate support and guidance.

In addition, this year I committed that every year I am going to sponsor university fees to a deserving matriculant. I am just a giver at heart, and I love seeing others thrive and prosper!

Quick facts about Ms Skwintshi

What do you do to relax?

I love listening to music. And before the national lockdown due to COVID-19, I used to make sure to have full traditional thai body massage every two weeks. Another way I relax is a weekend in the bushes where I'm surrounded by nature, animals and can hear birds in the morning.

How do you respond to change?

I love change. I thrive in change. Frankly speaking, I love making changes and making things better than I found them. I think that's why I love the IT field because it's constantly changing and evolving.

How do you deal with criticism?

In any criticism, I always look for the positive and areas where I can improve. I do not allow negative feedback to get to me. Instead, I love and accept constructive criticism because I build on it to work on my areas of development.

Getting to know Ms Skwintshi

What is your favourite dish or meal?

This is a hard one. I cannot say for sure as I don't really have any favourites when it comes to food. Having said that, I do love ostrich steak and oysters.

Of all the books you have read, which one changed your life and why?

That has to be Tough Choices by Carly Fiorina. The book is about the life of Carly Fiorina, a female leader who was recruited to be a CEO of Hewlett-Packard (HP), the first female CEO of a Fortune 20 company. I read the book during the early years of my career and it really motivated me to take my career forward.

Not only does it depict the life of Carly, but it gives inspiration that women can succeed in male-dominated fields. It recounts the travails of a woman in a patriarchal business culture and it gives examples of how to deal with tough choices and how we can learn from them.

What new hobby or interest have you picked up in recent months?

I fell in love with construction and décor. I was recently working on a small personal construction project and I just fell in love with property, building and putting the last finishes in a home; the turning an empty building/structure into a warm home with beautiful decorative pieces. As a result, a friend who owns a construction company approached me to help him with all his building and house renovation projects in my spare time.

What was the last gift you gave someone?

A Bible, it is God's blueprint for our lives.

Pensioner Profile

Tribute to Dr Themba (James) Nkosi

By Dr George Lindeque

“ I am so grateful that Themba was my colleague and friend over many years. He was not only a dedicated ESKOMITE but a fearless pioneer and completely changed my life and outlook. And he was so affable about it!

The ESKOM revolution of 1985 was led by Dr Johan Maree as Chairman and Dr Ian McRae as Chief Executive. It inter alia culminated in ESKOM becoming a leading electricity utility in the world at the beginning of 2000. One of our many priorities was to make ESKOM a truly “equal opportunity” company and in this regard Themba played a lead role.

He was ESKOM’s first Senior Black Manager and led the charge to change the face and the hearts and minds of the ESKOM leadership and its culture to prepare it for the “new” South Africa that was at our doorstep. He made an immense contribution to ESKOM’s transformation to the point of it leading the pack in South Africa way ahead of its time. He joined us as James; he left us as Themba.

There are many examples of this, and his footsteps are everywhere to be seen. This includes matters like relentlessly eliminating ESKOM’s 150 racial and gender discriminatory practices and breaking the glass ceiling hampering the progression of black potential being appointed to the senior ranks. He euphemistically called it “space creation for the space invaders”.

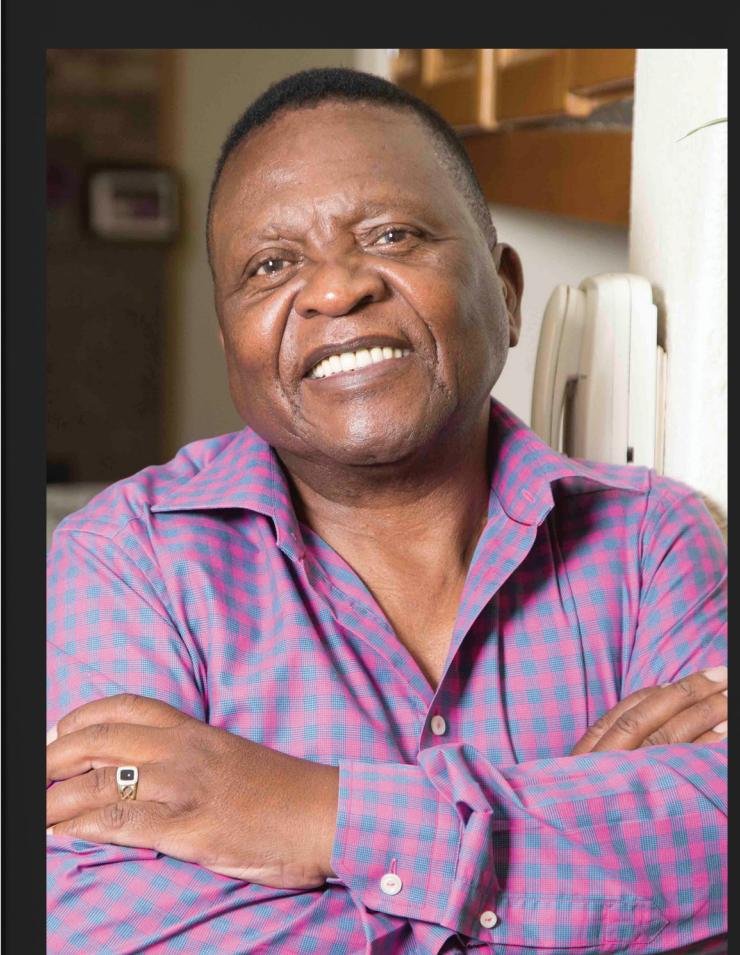

On a personal level, he, his team and other black employees in ESKOM determinately challenged us with: “We don’t trust you; you pontificate, intellectualise and philosophise about equal opportunities and transformation, but your body language is incongruent with what you are saying!” As a result of this confrontation and encounter I and several colleagues had the most wonderful personal experiences and engagements over weekends on end in Soweto and other townships around Johannesburg, visiting many ESKOM employees and other residents in their homes.

I and many of my white colleagues are deeply indebted to him for changing our lives and outlook to becoming breakers of apartheid and to embrace this emotionally! On this sad day we salute him unreservedly and honour his memory. The Nkosi clan can indeed be very proud of and grateful for his leadership and contribution to making South Africa a greatly better place!”

Festive season special feature: Holidays 2020

Invested in our
members

Most of us have wondered how this year's festive season would be like...2020 has been a very unprecedented year with normalising sanitising, social distancing, staying home and wearing masks – but now the holiday season is here and COVID-19 has become part of our daily life in most parts of the world including here at home in South Africa.

This year most of us will break the tradition when it comes to how we celebrate the festive season. Social distancing, limited numbers in gatherings and the anxiety that comes with this pandemic. This may present some difficult, emotional, mental and logistical challenges and will not be easy for most of us.

Spending the festive season alone or only with your immediate family members might not be ideal, but it does offer opportunities to make this holiday a season one to remember in new and different ways. Here are some ideas you may want to consider:

- Send gifts. Although COVID-19 has changed our lives in many ways, sending cards or gifts remains a relatively easy way to let loved ones know that you're thinking of them.
- Make videos or video call. This year, we must be content with video recording or video calling loved ones that are in other provinces and countries to catch up and see how friends and family are doing. Even though travelling is permitted, it is still very risky to travel under the current outbreak.
- Share a meal remotely. With all the videoconferencing platforms now available, it is easy to set aside some time to share a meal and good conversation remotely with friends and family members, whether they live nearby or across the country. Rather than one cook slaving over a hot stove or a certain person taking over the dinner table conversation, everyone gets a chance to cook and share their stories via their smartphone, tablet, or laptop. You can compare your culinary creations, swap recipes, and try to remember to leave room for dessert. If you have a tradition of playing games or giving thanks for your many blessings, you can still do many of these activities remotely.

- Stay safe. If you plan to go ahead and join a holiday gathering in person, it's important to remain vigilant, even when interacting with dear friends and loved ones. Remember, there are risks associated with travel and with interacting with people who've not been tested for the COVID-19 prior to the event, especially if they reside in an identified hot spot. Try to keep any family gatherings brief and relatively small, about five people or less. If the weather permits, hold the get-together outdoors.
- I. To protect yourself and your loved ones, both now and over the holidays, please follow these three important W's:
 2. Wear a mask when you are out in public and when you are indoors with people who are not part of your immediate household. The only exception is while eating or drinking.
 3. Watch your distance, staying at least two metres away from people who are not part of your immediate household.
 4. Wash your hands thoroughly and frequently.

While this holiday season will certainly be very different from previous years, we still believe that there are opportunities to make it memorable. Until then, please stay safe.

Spesiale artikel vir die Feesseisoen:

Vakansietyd 2020

Invested in our
members

Die meeste van ons het gewonder hoe die feesseisoen hierdie jaar gaan wees... 2020 was 'n baie ongewone jaar met dinge soos ontsmetting, sosiale distansiëring, inperking en die dra van maskers wat heeltemal normaal geword het. Nou het die vakansietyd aangebreek en COVID-19 het op die meeste plekke in die wêreld, en ook hier by ons, in Suid-Afrika, deel van ons alledaagse lewe geword.

Hierdie jaar gaan die meeste van ons nie die feesseisoen op die tradisionele manier vier nie as gevolg van sosiale distansiëring, beperkte getalle wat bymekaar mag kom en die angstigheid wat met hierdie pandemie gepaardgaan. Dit kan moeilike emosionele, verstandelike en logistieke uitdagings bied en sal vir die meeste van ons nie maklik wees nie.

Dit is dalk nie ideaal om die feestyd op jou eie of net saam met jou naaste familie deur te bring nie, maar dit skep geleenthede om hierdie vakansie 'n tyd te maak wat jy op nuwe en ander maniere kan onthou. Hier is 'n paar idees wat jy dalk kan oorweeg:

- Stuur geskenke. Hoewel COVID-19 ons lewe op baie maniere verander het, is die stuur van kaartjies of geskenke nog steeds 'n relatief maklike manier om vir jou geliefdes te wys dat jy aan hulle dink.
- Maak video's of video-oproepe. Vanjaar moet ons tevreden wees met video-opnames of video-oproepe na geliefdes wat in ander provinsies en lande woon om nuus te kry en uit te vind hoe dit met vriende en familie gaan. Al mag ons reis, is dit steeds baie gevaaarlik met die huidige opvlammig van die virus.
- Eet 'n maaltyd saam oor 'n afstand. Met al die videokonferensie-platforms wat nou beskikbaar is, is dit maklik om tyd opsy te sit om 'n ete en 'n lekker geselsie oor 'n afstand saam met vriende en familie te geniet, of hulle nou naby of ver van jou in die land woon. In plaas daarvan dat een persoon hom voor die warm stoof afsloof of dat 'n sekere persoon die gesprek by die etentafel oorheers, kry elkeen nou 'n beurt om te kook en hulle stories te vertel oor hulle slimfoon, tablet of skootrekenaar. Julle kan julle kulinêre skeppings vergelyk, resepte ruil en probeer om te onthou om plek te los vir nagereg. As dit julle tradisie is om speletjies te speel of dankie te sê vir julle baie seënninge, kan julle steeds baie van hierdie dinge oor 'n afstand doen.

- Bly veilig. As jy van plan is om in elk geval 'n vakansiebyeenkoms persoonlik by te woon, is dit belangrik om waaksam te bly, selfs wanneer jy saam met goeie vriende en geliefdes vergader. Onthou, daar is risiko's wat verband hou met reis en met interaksie met mense wat nie voor die samekoms vir COVID-19 getoets is nie, veral as hulle in'n geïdentifiseerde gevaaarkol woon. Probeer om enige familiebyeenkomste kort en relatief klein te hou, sowat vyf mense of minder. As die weer dit toelaat, hou die byeenkoms in die buitelug.
- Om jouself en jou geliefdes nou, asook gedurende die vakansietyd te beskerm, volg asseblief hierdie drie belangrike stappe:

 1. Dra 'n masker wanneer jy buite in die openbaar is en wanneer jy binnenshuis is saam met mense wat nie deel van jou onmiddellike huishouding is nie. Die enigste uitsondering is terwyl jy eet of drink.
 2. Hou jou afstand, en bly ten minste twee meter weg van mense wat nie deel van jou onmiddellike huishouding is nie.
 3. Was jou hande deeglik en gereeld.

Hoewel hierdie vakansietyd beslis baie anders as vorige jare sal wees, glo ons dat daar wel geleenthede sal wees om dit onvergeetlik te maak. Tot dan, bly asseblief veilig.

In August 2020, South Africa was hit by one of the largest ever data breaches after Experian, one of the country's biggest credit bureaus was hit by a fraudster leaving personal information of as many as 24 million South Africans and nearly 800 000 business compromised. As it is, more and more banks are encouraging customers to go digital, but the risks associated with the use of online services is also surging at an alarming rate.

One of the South African banks recently alerted their members to a new scam that fraudsters use where they call you under the pretence of being from your bank's fraud department or client service. The perpetrators then start to ask questions to obtain personal information from you to build up a target profile. It is critical to be secure and alert all the time - if a call makes you uncomfortable hang up and refrain from giving away any personal information.

Here are five tips to keep you from falling victim to these fraudsters by protecting your bank account information:

I Beware of phishing emails

Never click on links in your emails or in the attachments as they can be infected with a malware which then sneaks into your computer and tracks down your online data, including banking information, to pass on to remote hackers. If you feel that an email is suspicious, delete it and block the email account.

2 Enable two-step authentication

A two-step authentication is a one-time password sent to your email or mobile phone to complete a bank transaction. This is in addition to the username and password you have to input to access your online bank account. However, even this kind of authentication is not a foolproof solution these days as hackers can easily hijack your phone or generate a sim clone through deceptive means.

3 Keep your PC or phone software updated

Many cyberattacks rely on the exploitation of security flaws, so it is important to keep your devices updated with the latest software updates. This, in turn, will help minimise the risks of becoming a cyberattack victim. Keep your banking device updated with an anti-malware solution. Using premium software, in this case, will prove beneficial.

4 Never use your bank credentials on public Wi-Fi

If you happen to visit a bus station or airport, or any other public place availing connectivity, never use a public Wi-Fi network to access your bank services. This can expose your activity to hackers who in turn can use various tricks to drain your bank accounts.

5 Always opt for a great password

Use a password which is a mixture of alpha-numeric and special characters.

There are many ways that criminals can try to cheat you out of your hard-earned money, and you need to be vigilant and aware of all the scams. Should you feel that you have fallen victim to any scam, it is imperative that you alert your bank as soon as possible with all the relevant details.

Stay safe!

In Augustus 2020 is Suid-Afrika getref deur een van die grootste data-oortredings tot nog toe nadat Experian, een van die land se grootste kredietburo's, deur 'n bedrieër geteiken is wat die persoonlike inligting van tot 24 miljoen Suid-Afrikaners en byna 800 000 besighede in gevaar gestel het. Dan moedig al hoe meer banke kliënte ook aan om banksake digitaal te doen, maar die risiko's wat verband hou met die gebruik van aanlyndienste is ook besig om teen 'n ontstellende tempo te styg. Een van die Suid-Afrikaanse banke het onlangs hulle lede gewaarsku teen 'n nuwe bedrogspul wat bedrieërs gebruik – hulle bel jou onder die voorwendsel dat hulle van jou bank se bedrogafdeling of kliëntediens is. Die skelms begin dan vrae vra om jou persoonlike inligting te bekom sodat hulle 'n teikenprofiel van jou kan opbou. Dit is van kritieke belang om altyd veilig en wakker te wees – as 'n oproep jou ongemaklik laat voel, druk diefoon dood en moenie enige persoonlike inligting uitgee nie.

Hier is vyf wenke om te keer dat jy die slagoffer van hierdie bedrieërs word deur jou bankrekeninginligting te beskerm:

- 1. Pasop vir uitvissing-e-posse Moet nooit op skakels in jou e-pos of in die aanhangsels klik nie, want dit kan besmet wees met malware wat dan in jou rekenaar insluip en jou aanlyndata, soos jou bankinligting, opspoor en dit deurgee aan rekenaarinbrekers. As jy voel dat 'n e-pos agterdogtig is, vee dit uit en blokkeer die e-posrekening.
- 2. Stel 'n twee-stap-verifikasie in 'n Twee-stap-verifikasie is 'n eenmalige wagwoord wat na jou e-pos of selfoon gestuur word om 'n banktransaksie te voltooi. Dit is bykomend tot die gebruikersnaam en wagwoord wat jy moet insit om toegang tot jou aanlynbankrekening te kry. Maar nie eers hierdie soort verifikasie is deesdae 'n onfeilbare oplossing nie, want rekenaarinbrekers kan maklik jou selfoon kaap of op oneerlike maniere 'n sim-kloon skep.

- 3. Hou jou rekenaar of selfoon se sagteware opgedateer Baie kuberaanvalle maak daarop staat dat hulle sekuriteitsfoute kan uitbuit, en daarom is dit belangrik om jou toestelle opgedateer te hou met die nuutste sagteware-bywerkings. Dit sal dan help om die risiko's te verlaag dat jy 'n slagoffer van 'n kuberaanval word. Hou jou banktoestel opgedateer met anti-malware-sagteware. Die gebruik van premium-sagteware sal in hierdie geval voordelig wees.
- 4. Moet nooit jou bankbesonderhede op openbare Wi-Fi-verbindings gebruik nie As jy by 'n busstasie of lughawe of enige ander openbare plek is waar jy aan die Wi-Fi-netwerk kan konnekteer, moet jy dit nooit gebruik om toegang tot jou bankdienste te verkry nie. Dit kan jou aktiwiteit aan rekenaarinbrekers blootstel, en hulle kan dan weer allerhande skelmstreke gebruik om jou bankrekenings te dreineer.
- 5. Kies altyd 'n goeie wagwoord Gebruik 'n wagwoord wat 'n mengsel is van alfa-numerieuse en spesiale karakters.

Daar is baie maniere waarop misdadigers kan probeer om jou swaarverdiende geld te steel, en jy moet wakker en bewus wees van al hierdie skelmstreke. As jy dink dat jy die slagoffer van 'n bedrogspul is, is dit noodsaaklik dat jy jou bank so gou as moontlik daarvan in kennis stel met al die relevante besonderhede.

Mental health awareness

A couple of months ago during the month of October, two prominent health issues were highlighted. But these issues should not only be talked about for one month of the year as they affect a large part of the population, directly and indirectly. The first of these health issues is breast cancer; a disease that continues to claim millions of lives around the world and doesn't only affect women, but it can affect men too.

The second health condition that silently kills and affects millions of people because of lack of awareness and education is mental health. In this edition, and because of the impact of COVID-19 on our daily lives, we have chosen to address the latter.

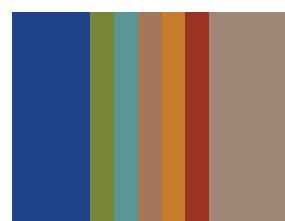

Awareness during the month of October

The month of October has been declared Mental Health Awareness Month with the objective of not only educating the public about mental health, but also to reduce the stigma and discrimination that people with mental illness are often subjected to.

Mental health problems, such as depression, anxiety, substance abuse and job stress are common, affecting individuals, their families and co-workers, and the broader community. In addition, this societal disease has a direct impact on workplaces through increased absenteeism, reduced productivity, and increased costs.

Very few South Africans seek treatment for their mental disorders, and many are not aware that mental illness can be treated at your nearest clinic, hospital or healthcare provider.

Types of mental health conditions

Mental health problems are the result of a complex interplay between biological, psychological, social and environmental factors. There are many types of mental health conditions which affect people and impact them on a personal level, and these conditions include:

- Schizophrenia
- Dementia
- Depressive disorder
- Obsessive compulsive disorder
- Panic disorder
- Post-traumatic stress disorder

It is imperative that we always take care of ourselves and make sure that we take care of our mental being and that we remain vigilant in looking out for signs of mental issues in our friends and family and ensuring that they receive the necessary help and as soon as possible.

'n Gesonder jy: Geestesgesondheid- bewustheid

Gedurende die maand Oktober is twee prominente gesondheidskwessies verskeie kere uitgelig. Maar daar moenie net vir een maand van die jaar oor hierdie kwessies gepraat word nie, aangesien 'n groot deel van die bevolking direk en indirek daardeur beïnvloed word. Die eerste van hierdie gesondheidskwessies is borskanker, 'n siekte wat steeds miljoene lewens regoor die wêreld eis, en dit raak nie net vroue nie, maar dit kan mans ook raak.

Die tweede gesondheidstoestand wat stilweg miljoene mense beïnvloed en hulle dood veroorsaak as gevolg van 'n gebrek aan bewustheid en opvoeding is geestesgesondheid. In hierdie uitgawe, en as gevolg van die impak van COVID-19 op ons daaglikse lewe, het ons besluit om laasgenoemde te bespreek.

Bewustheid tydens Oktobermaand

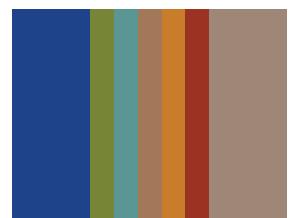

Oktobermaand is verklaar as die maand van bewustheid oor Geestesgesondheid met die doel om nie net die publiek oor geestesgesondheid op te voed nie, maar ook om die stigma en diskriminasie te verminder waaraan mense met 'n geestelike siekte dikwels onderwerp word.

Geestesprobleme, soos depressie, angs, middelmisbruik en werkstres is algemeen, en dit beïnvloed individue, hulle gesinne en medewerkers, asook die breër gemeenskap. Daarbenewens het hierdie maatskaplike siekte 'n direkte impak op die werkplek as gevolg van verhoogde afwesigheid, verlaagde produktiwiteit en verhoogde koste.

Baie min Suid-Afrikaners soek behandeling vir hulle geestelike afwykings, en baie is nie bewus daarvan dat geestesongesteldheid by 'n mens se naaste kliniek, hospitaal of gesondheidsorgverkaffer behandel kan word nie.

Tipes geestesgesondheid-toestande

Geestesgesondheidprobleme is die gevolg van 'n komplekse wisselwerking tussen biologiese, sielkundige, sosiale en omgewingsfaktore. Daar is baie verskillende soorte geestesgesondheid-toestande wat mense beïnvloed, met 'n impak op 'n persoonlike vlak, en hierdie toestande sluit in:

- Skisofrenie
- Demensie
- Depressiewe versturing
- Obsessieve-kompulsieve versturing
- Paniekversturing
- Posttraumatische stresversturing

Dit is noodsaaklik dat ons altyd na onsself moet omsien en moet seker maak dat ons vir ons geestelike welsyn sorg; en ons moet wakker bly en op die uitkyk wees vir tekens van geesteskwessies in ons vriende en familie en moet seker maak dat hulle die nodige hulp kry, en dat hulle dit so gou as moontlik kry.

A closer look at Impact Investing

As a major asset owner in the SA economy, with over R140 billion asset under management, the EPPF has an important role to play in facilitating the discussion of key themes emerging as part of SA's economic recovery from COVID-19, including the calls for participation of the pension fund industry in infrastructure and impact investing. On Monday, 16 November 2020, the EPPF hosted its first-ever live Impact Investing webinar with a key focus on how pension funds can best utilise infrastructure investments to further grow assets going into the future.

With a trending topic of discussion, impact investing, on the table, it was certainly fitting that the keynote address was delivered by Dr. Kgosientsho Ramokgopa, Head of Investment and Infrastructure Office at the Presidency of South Africa. He spoke on an array of investment issues and strategies and then participated in the insightful panel discussion that followed.

The panel was moderated by Refilwe Moloto, Cape Talk radio host and economic advisor with 15 years' financial services experience. The panel included Dr Ramokgopa and the EPPF CIO, Mr Ndabezinhle Mkhize, as well as the following industry heavy hitters:

- Dr Thabi Leoka, an economist and strategist focused on the upward growth of the South African economy. She is currently with Argon Asset Management and is a board member of Corruption Watch
- Mr David Geral, a partner and leads Bowmans' Banking and Financial Services Regulatory Practice specialising in pensions, healthcare and group insurances
- Ms Jolly Mokhorosi, Independent Trustee and Principal Officer, Deputy Chair of Batseta's (Council of Retirement Funds for South Africa) Asset Owners Forum Steering Committee

The session was a very well attended, engaging and received some great feedback and media interest. This was successful event, and we look forward to hosting similar sessions in the near future.

The EPPF realises that hosting events while facilitating these critical industry discussions is imperative, the best way to make a true impact is to take action. Amongst the many impact investing projects that the Fund has invested in the International Housing Solutions (IHS) is a special standout.

IHS, a real estate fund manager with a 15-year track record, has been the Fund's vehicle for investing in affordable, energy efficient housing. IHS has financed developments ranging from social housing in Klerksdorp, North West, to economical solutions in Boksburg, Ekurhuleni and apartments for middle-income families in Bryanston, Sandton.

In all, IHS has delivered 28 000 residential units for rental and for sale in South Africa, Botswana and Namibia, and mobilised more than US$570m in order to achieve this.

The Fund first invested in IHS in 2014, just as its Fund II SA was launched. The Fund's investment is in 11 105 residential units, of which 2 746 will be social housing units for low-income households. Equally importantly, some 7 000 units will be certified as energy efficient according to the EDGE criteria developed by the International Finance Corporation (IFC).

Location close to work opportunities and social amenities is a prime consideration for IHS housing projects. Any investment in new housing is also an investment in jobs, the burning issue right at the top of South Africa's economic agenda. The IHS has created 1 087 permanent jobs and 1 335 temporary jobs in the construction sector. It has a property management company that employs 191 people.

The company has also "built" a real estate investment trust (REIT) that was initially listed on the alternative board of the Johannesburg Stock Exchange and has recently migrated to the main board.

Twelve of its 81 housing projects have been sold to developers, REITS and individual homeowners.

"It's important for the Fund to support in emerging asset classes that are not yet viewed as institutional asset classes," says Tahane Mahlaole, Investment Manager at IHS. "IHS has played a critical role in transforming this market and creating an environment that attracts private commercial capital into this space. Impact investment by institutional investors like the EPPF has helped to accomplish this."

We look forward to featuring more on similar projects in future editions of our newsletter. For more about the EPPF's investment strategy, visit the member portal for the abridged Investment Policy Statement.

Psychotherapist Julia Samuel uses hours of conversations with patients to showcase how individuals adapt differently in the face of hardship. Backed by academic, medical research, her analysis of the stories she shares clearly explains how mental health is different for every person, yet the prioritization of positive mental health (and smart, easily enforced coping mechanisms) should remain the same.

Fund interest rate

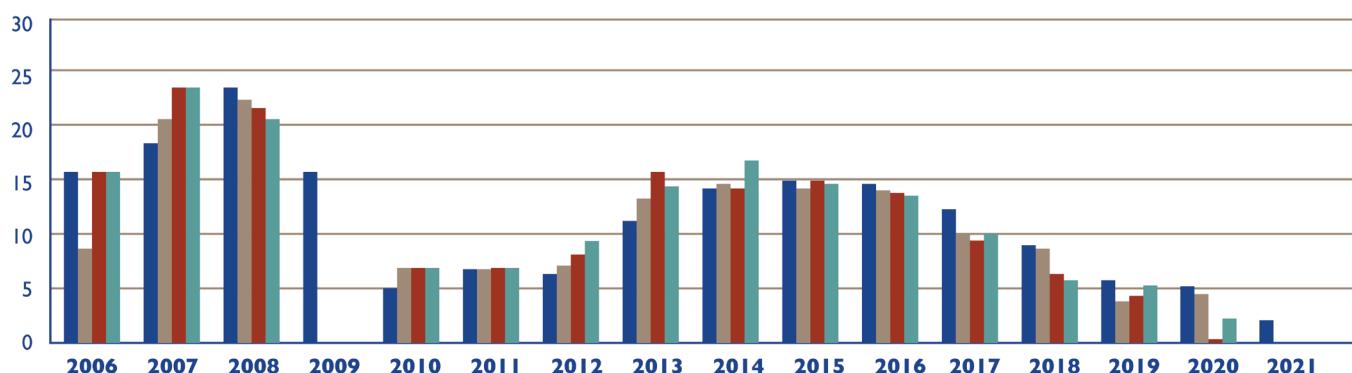

Each quarter, the Board of Trustees of the EPPF reviews the interest rate applicable to the Additional Voluntary Contribution Scheme (AVC) and the Deferred Pension Scheme, taking into consideration the financial performance of EPPF's investments.

The AVC scheme enables in-service members to make additional voluntary contributions in order to enhance their retirement or withdrawal benefits. The Deferred Pension Scheme, provides a "parking" or preservation facility for the retirement money left in the EPPF by former in-service members, the "deferred pensioners".

In-service members earn interest on the AVC Scheme and deferred pensioners earn interest on the Deferred Pension Scheme.

When considering the impact of our interest rates, one should consider the long-term nature of retirement funds and avoid looking at short-term rates only. There may be times when our interest rates are higher than those available in the open market, while at other times the rates may indeed be lower. This is due to the fact that our interest rates are based on past performance on a rolling four-year basis, thus lagging behind interest rates in the market. Over the longer term however, the end result should be comparable. The graphs shows the EPPF interest rates applied for each quarter from 2006:

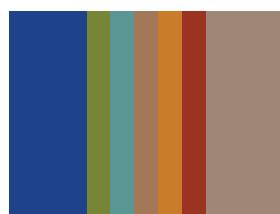

Fund Interest Rates %

YEAR	QUARTER 1	QUARTER 2	QUARTER 3	QUARTER 4
2006	16%	16%	16%	16%
2007	18.5%	21%	24%	24%

2009	16%	0%	0%	0%
2010	5%	7%	7%	7%
2011	7%	7%	7%	7%
2012	6.5%	7.25%	8.25%	9.5%

Protection of Personal Information Act (POPIA)

In 2013, certain sections of the PoPI Act came into effect. The PoPI Act seeks to regulate the processing of personal information by responsible parties, in this case, the Fund. The purpose of the PoPI Act is to ensure that all South African institutions conduct themselves in a responsible manner when they are in possession of another entity or person's personal information. This includes prohibiting the sharing of a member's personal information with third parties without consent of the member. The Fund complies with the PoPI Act to ensure that our members' information is secure and protected. Therefore, the EPPF does not provide pension information to third parties (e.g; financial advisers) unless authorised by the member or compelled to do so by law.

POPIA came into effect on 1 July 2020 and the Fund will have 12 months from 1 July to become fully compliant. As an organisation which places its members, and the safeguarding of their personal information high on our priorities list, we embarked on a journey towards POPIA compliance some time ago and that journey will culminate in full compliance by 1 July 2021.
